Our History

Tempus fugit: time flies - for all of us. Sooner or later we will all need the help of a funeral director, and although there may be new businesses which can provide such services, for some it never seems quite right, or respectful, to make use of a firm that has not acquired the elusive patina of age, that indefinable degree of dignity which can only be gained through having been around for many years.

A.W. Lymn The Family Funeral Service is a well known name and has long been associated with Nottingham's inner city. Our headquarters is still located in Sneinton just a few hundred yards from Goosegate, where our founders, Arthur William Lymn and his son Harold Percy Lymn, traded as furniture makers and dealers at the turn of the nineteenth century.

In 1907 father and son decided to specialise in the manufacture and supply of coffins and the provision of a full funeral service, hence their entry into the 'undertaking' profession as it was most commonly known in those days.

The new business was soon so successful that it had to move to larger premises. In 1915 the office was moved to Bath Street, opposite Sneinton Market. The firm's horses were stabled in Robin Hood Street and coffins manufactured in Handel Street. The stables were eventually replaced with garaging for motor vehicles; the same site now housing the impressive Rolls-Royce fleet, reputed to be the largest privately owned fleet of such vehicles in the world.

When Arthur William Lymn died in 1929 control of the business passed to his widow Louisa and their son Harold. When Louisa in turn passed on in 1939 Harold took sole charge. Despite the coming of war in 1939, the introduction of petrol rationing and other wartime restrictions the business still continued to grow. Harold himself was involved in the war effort serving as a volunteer at the Civil Defence mortuary.

Harold's son Douglas and son-in-law George Rose continued to develop the business which became a limited company in 1958. Douglas and George became members of the British Institute of Embalmers and were involved in the first repatriation of human remains from England to Pakistan at about this time.

In 1977, a year after Harold's death, the company moved its headquarters to Robin Hood House, in Robin Hood Street where the main hub of the firm can still be found today.

Sheila Lymn Rose (Harold's daughter) although fully retired still likes to hear how the family business is progressing. Her son Nigel, daughter-in-law Penny and daughter Jackie are still actively involved as Chairman and Directors. The business is now largely run by Sheila's grandchildren, the fifth generation with Matthew as Managing Director, Chlöe a Director and Ben and his wife Emma looking after Marketing and PR. The importance of having the right management to take the business forward is fully appreciated and to this end Pete Clarson has been appointed as Commercial Director and as such is the first independent member of the board who is not a member of the founder's family.

Over the decades the firm has expanded greatly, and we now have 27 funeral homes serving the whole of Nottinghamshire and South Derbyshire, as well as an in-house floristry division. Our fleet is renowned across the country and regularly travels great distances to be of service.

The company is a member of the National Association of Funeral Directors, of which Nigel was the President during its Centenary year in 2005, and boasts more holders of the association's Diploma in Funeral Directing than any other private funeral business within the country. The company is also a member by invitation of the prestigious European Group of Selected Independent Funeral Homes and Matthew was installed as Chair of this organisation in 2022.

In line with the founders' aspiration the business still strives for perfection of service ahead of maximisation of profit. It therefore re-invests heavily in its staff and ploughs much of the profits back into its fleet, premises and facilities provided for the benefit of the bereaved families that it serves.

The Family Funeral Service®

In August 1907 Arthur William Lymn conducted his first funeral and the undertakers originally trading as A.W. Lymn and now known as A.W. Lymn The Family Funeral Service was formed. Since then the business has continued to maintain the founder's vision of placing the emphasis on quality of service, value for money and the meeting of clients' needs.

As a result we now have an excellent reputation, employ highly qualified and experienced staff and are readily accessible through our network of local offices serving Nottinghamshire and South Derbyshire. We feel that our long history and association with the local community give the families we serve the benefit of our expert knowledge and detailed history that is not readily available elsewhere.

We believe that client choice is paramount to providing good service. To this end we have extensive information on local churches, ministers, cemeteries and crematoria and further have access to a range of unique supplies and services many of which are detailed in this brochure. In the 55 years I have been involved, the skills required to run a family business have increased enormously and as such we have had to look outside the family for qualified and talented personnel to join us.

I am very pleased that the business is still wholly owned by the founders' family. The fourth generation represented by my sister Jackie, my wife Penny and I are still actively involved but the business is now run on a daily basis by the fifth generation. My son Matthew is Managing Director, my daughter Chlöe is a Director, and the management team is now enhanced by Pete Clarson the Commercial Director, being the first non-family appointment to the board. The company is also supported by my nephew Ben and his wife Emma who manage our Marketing and PR.

I hope that you find this brochure helpful and that it will enable you to make informed choices. Please remember that most things can be changed at any time after the initial arrangement meeting provided they have not already been completed. If you want to alter any of the arrangements or if you require any further information or explanations please feel free to contact the staff at your local office for help and advice.

Funeral Costs

Every funeral arranged by A.W. Lymn The Family Funeral Service will have a written estimate prepared in advance by an experienced funeral arranger. This will need to be signed along with our contract by our client being the person making the decisions and ultimately responsible for paying the invoice. As part of this process a discussion will take place concerning the funding of the funeral. Unlike many funeral directors we do not generally insist on a payment before the day of the funeral. However, some cemeteries require payment in advance.

The final invoice will be sent approximately one week after the funeral. In the event of the funeral being substantially funded by a pre-paid funeral plan the invoice for any items ordered but not paid for by the plan provider will also be sent to our client at this time.

Invoices to Third Parties

When requested we will send an invoice directly to a third party such as another family member, bank, building society, solicitor or insurance company for payment, and prepare a duplicate copy for information purposes and send this to our client. The client instructing A.W. Lymn The Family Funeral Service and signing the contract will remain ultimately responsible for payment and interest is payable if a long delay occurs before payment is received. This is in line with our terms and conditions which can be found at www.lymn.co.uk/funerals/website/terms

Other Help Available

Some clients will be eligible for help with funeral costs from the DWP. Our funeral arrangers will be able to advise clients on their eligibility for such claims. The maximum DWP Funeral Expenses Payment will never cover the full cost of a funeral. We have expert staff available to help with DWP claims and to assist in obtaining any further help available from government or charities.

Discounts & Affinities

A £100.00 discount may be deducted from our professional fee if the full estimated cost including third party fees is paid in advance of the funeral date. Please visit our website for details discounts and affinities that are sometimes available: www.lymn.co.uk/funerals/website/terms

First Steps

Financial Advice

Dealing with money matters is often the last thing you want to be doing when you have suffered a bereavement. Unfortunately, it is something that has to be addressed and some financial matters are more pressing than others. Time delays can lead to unnecessary complication and cost.

What should be done first?

The first thing is to register the death and take care of the funeral arrangements.

The cost of the funeral can normally be released directly from one of the deceased's accounts upon production of the invoice and death certificate, if there are sufficient funds. If there are insufficient funds, the client may be eligible to help from the State - please ask and you will be advised of the eligibility criteria.

It is advisable to write a list with the following information about the deceased:-

- Accounts/Shares/ISA's etc
- Life Insurance
- Private Pensions/Annuities
- DWP/State Pension
- Utility Companies
- Council Tax
- Buildings Insurance

All these people may have to be contacted and creating a list at the start will help organise what needs to be done.

The person that has the responsibility of dealing with the administration of the estate is either:

- The executor if there is a Will
- The next of kin under the rules of Intestacy if there is no Will

It will be up to them to decide whether they wish to deal with matters personally or whether to get assistance from a solicitor with the administration of the estate.

The circumstances will dictate, and it is often not required on the first death in a couple whose assets are held jointly.

Some solicitors offer a free initial consultation to assess whether you require their services, you may wish to take advantage of this. If not and you require assistance later after coming up against something you are finding it difficult to deal with - go and get their help rather than worrying.

Registration of Death

One part of the 'funeral process' that your funeral director will not be able to do for you is to register the death. This needs to be completed by the legally responsible person, normally a relative, executor, someone present at the death, the occupier of the premises where the death occurred, or the person arranging the funeral.

This person must speak to the registrar once the Medical Certificate of Cause of Death (MCCD) has been issued by the doctor and emailed to appropriate Register Office. Our staff will be more than happy to advise you whether you need to attend the register office where you must go to do this or if the registrar will contact you by telephone, to make the appointment.

When you register a death we recommend that you take advantage of the "Tell Us Once" scheme, where you will be able to tell the government authorities just once about your change of circumstances. A death normally needs to be registered within five days, unless the Coroner is investigating the circumstances. In certain situations the five day period can be extended.

The Registrar will interview you in private to gather the following information for the register:

- The date and place of death
- The person's full name at time of death
- Any names previously used, including maiden surname
- The person's date and place of birth (town and county if born in the UK and country only if born abroad)
- Their last address
- Their occupation
- The full name, date of birth and occupation of a deceased or surviving spouse or civil partner
- Whether they were receiving a state pension or any other state benefit

The Registrar will record all details in draft form and will ask you to check that they have been recorded correctly. The non-statistical information will then be copied into the register book, which you will be asked to check through carefully and sign.

The registrar will also offer you access to the "Tell Us Once" service.

"Tell Us Once" can notify the following departments after you have registered a death:

- | | | |
|-------------------------------|-------------------------------------|--------------------------------|
| • Adult Social Services | • Attendance Allowance | • Blue Badge parking permit |
| • Child Benefit | • Child Tax Credit | • Children's services |
| • Council housing | • Council tax | • Council Tax Benefit |
| • Disability Living Allowance | • Driver & Vehicle Licensing Agency | • Employment Support Allowance |
| • Housing Benefit | • Income Support | • Jobseeker's Allowance |
| • Library services | • Overseas Health Team | • Owed payments to the Council |
| • Passport Service | • Personal taxation | • Tax help for older people |
| • War Pensions scheme | • Working Tax Credit | |

Where applicable, "Tell Us Once" will pass details to these departments on your behalf. The departments you choose to notify will contact you directly if they need any more information to process your change in circumstances.

On completion the Registrar will issue:

- A certificate for burial or cremation 'green form' which enables the funeral to proceed (however, if the Coroner is involved different procedures may apply). This is issued free of charge.
- A BD8 Department for Work and Pensions (DWP) form for pension or benefit purposes. This is also issued free of charge.
- You may also purchase certified copies of the entry (death certificates) at a cost of £11.00.
- A card for you to complete if you wish for the deceased's details to be removed from mailing lists, however we will complete this on your behalf.

Carrying of Coffins & Caskets

It is company policy, wherever practicable and appropriate, to carry the coffin at shoulder height. However, certain conditions may prevent this. A risk assessment will be made on each occasion, and your funeral arranger should advise the client, before the funeral, if extra staff may be required and the additional costs thereof, or if shoulder carrying is not a viable option.

Music

At most local crematoria a system is available to download music from the internet to use during the service. We have contact with several soloists, bands, choirs and musicians who can be engaged when required, we also have iPods and sound systems available for use.

Personal Address Systems, Video Screens & Recording of Services

Through relationships with local firms we are able to offer PA systems to allow a service to be broadcast to a large congregation, video links to extend the service to another venue, and recording equipment to allow a video or audio recording of a service to be made and kept by the family.

Webcasting

Sending live video through the internet allows bereaved relatives and friends to share the funeral ceremony when they are unable to attend in person. We have found that the service is particularly valued by those who live abroad and also those who would like to be present at a funeral but are not fit to travel.

Catering

If catering is required after the funeral the client can either make their own arrangements or contact us to make a booking at a hotel or provide catering and/or staff at our premises or at a family members home.

Ushers

Listing Mourners

*£25.00

This practice means a listing of mourner's card is either placed inside the printed orders of service if these have been provided or left at the service venue. At the end of the service the cards will be collected by our funeral staff. We produce a list of all the mourner's names alphabetically, together with those names of people who could not attend but were represented. Multiple copies can be produced if required, and there is the option of submitting the details online if mourners prefer.

Civil Celebrants

A civil funeral celebrant's role is to lead a funeral or celebration of life and to introduce others such as family or friends who may wish to take part.

What is said and shared during a civil funeral or memorial ceremony is decided by family and friends with the guidance and support of the civil funeral celebrant.

In addition to a network of trusted independent civil celebrants, A.W. Lymn The Family Funeral Service employs three celebrants, all of whom hold the NOCN Level 3 Diploma in Funeral Celebrancy and the National Association of Funeral Directors' Diploma in Funeral Directing.

Choosing the right officiant

A Religious Minister: They will deliver a full liturgy relevant to their religion including sacred text or scriptural readings, prayers, blessings, hymns or sacred songs and will commit the soul of the person who has died to God's safekeeping. Many families may already have a connection to a place of worship and will have contact with a priest, pastor, rabbi, imam, pandit or other minister of religion. We can help if you do not know the minister or have a connection with the place of worship

Each religion and religious denomination should happily provide further information on the type of funerals they are willing to provide before you make any decision or commitment.

An Independent or Civil Celebrant: According to The Institute of Civil Celebrants "A Civil Funeral is driven by the wishes, beliefs and values of the deceased and their family, not by the beliefs or ideology of the person conducting the funeral. It sits between a religious and a humanist funeral"

In other words Celebrants are happy to include religious content, such as a hymn or The Lord's Prayer, without the funeral being a fully religious ceremony. They are equally happy to lead an entirely non-religious funeral. They are usually trained and accredited by a professional body such as the IOCF, AIC or similar

A Humanist Celebrant: Humanists do not believe in any form of afterlife or spiritual existence, angels or the existence of any God or gods. They view death as a part of life and rely on science for answers about the world. Their ceremonies have no religious or spiritual content whatsoever. However, they do emphasise empathy and compassion for others and celebrating the life and achievements of the person who has died. A Humanist Celebrant will be trained and accredited by Humanists UK, formerly The British Humanist Association.

All funeral ceremonies should be personal and relevant to the individual who has died. Do be aware that different types of service or ceremony may offer greater or lesser opportunity for input regarding choice of music, poetry, personal reminiscences, life story and so on. It is always wise to check with the officiant that they are willing to provide exactly the type of ceremony that the family want and is appropriate for the person who has died.

The Sustainable Funeral

In 2023 we undertook market research and found that nearly three quarters of those surveyed in Nottingham say a sustainable funeral is important to them.

As a company that recognises that the needs of the communities we support change over time, we have acted on this research and purchased our first electric vehicles.

Below are some ways in which you can make a funeral more sustainable:

- Choose a natural burial. There are many sites in the local area including Tithe Green Natural Burial (Oxton), The Vale of Belvoir Natural Burial Ground (Bottesford), Prestwold Natural Burial Ground (Prestwold) and Dale Hill Natural Burials (Ockbrook).
- Although cremation is generally regarded as less environmentally friendly the newly opened Rushcliffe Oaks in Stragglethorpe is an environmentally conscious facility using renewable energy sources and is one of the first in the country to invest in innovative all-electric technologies.
- When purchasing a coffin, have a look at what they are made from and if any 'airmiles' have been involved in getting them to the UK. We have a large range of coffins and caskets made from natural British materials such as wool (bottom of page 45) and Musgrove wicker (page 44).
- We now have an electric fleet of vehicles including a Ford Mustang Mach-E hearse and matching cars (page 32), as well as a closed hearse Mercedes eVito (page 35).
- Traditional funeral flowers are almost always created in plastic floral foam. More sustainable floral design alternatives such as a hand-tied sheaf or an eco-friendly base are available. Please speak to our florist to discuss options.
- Balloons have been used for many years as a visual expression of love for the one who has passed, as an alternative consider our doves which are looked after at the Lymn Rose family home. Please note that some venues have restrictions on bird releases. Your funeral arranger will be able to advise you on this.
- Create a lasting tribute to a loved one by dedicating a 'Memory Leaf' with our partners at Nottinghamshire Wildlife Trust. These beautiful brass leaves can be installed at Nature Reserves across Nottinghamshire, providing a tranquil space for you to visit. All gifts in memory go directly to supporting the Trust's work protecting wildlife, preserving these precious wild spaces for future generations.

The A.W. LYMN Centenary Foundation

In 2007 to mark 100 years of service to the families of Nottinghamshire and South Derbyshire the company created a charitable foundation to thank those communities for their continued commitment to its success. A.W. Lymn The Family Funeral Service made a substantial financial commitment to launch the Centenary Foundation and has continued each year to donate at least £10.00 to the trust for every private funeral that it undertakes.

The Foundation has five Trustees, two of which are totally independent of the company, two of which are non-family members of staff and one is a Director of the Company. It is administered by Ben J. Percival, great-great-grandson of the Company's founder Arthur William Lymn.

The essence of the relationship is that the company finances the trust and the Trustees then decide how to distribute the assets of the trust to local good causes. The idea is to distribute the monies back to the communities which the company serves.

Applications for funding can be made by any local person, group, committee or organisation. These should be made in writing or by email giving a brief description of what is required, who is to be helped and why it thought that the Foundation should help. They should be sent to the address below and the Trustees will consider the merits of the application at their next meeting following which the applicant will be notified of their decision. The Trustees only meet quarterly so an early advance application is very helpful as there may be several weeks wait for a decision.

Many local organisations have benefited from the A.W. Lymn Centenary Foundation, in different ways, including for example building work, new facilities, the provision of a Christmas lunch and holiday trips for under privileged and disabled children.

Just a few comments from our benefactors

- Your donation will help us to benefit some of the most vulnerable children in our society to realise that they are not forgotten and that they can take part in an activity more often enjoyed by the wider community, thereby promoting social inclusion.

Ryan Sinclair Chief Executive - Happy Days.

- We are very grateful for the ongoing support of The A.W. Lymn Centenary Foundation. Recently, they have helped to provide a beautiful and welcoming Contemplation Courtyard at the Treetops hospice, where families can sit peacefully with memories of their loved ones.

Adela Appleby - Head of Community Relationships - Treetops Hospice

- Once again a huge thank you to A.W. Lymn for their contribution towards our Christmas parties. Without the support of local businesses such as A.W. Lymn, we would not be able to provide the much needed services available to those members of our community who suffer loneliness and isolation. Dee Stirland - Good Companions.

- We wish to thank the Trustees of the A.W. Lymn Centenary Foundation for their further support of our offender education programme in Nottinghamshire prisons. Their support has enabled us to help offenders with educational needs that aid their rehabilitation and enable many of them to take their first steps on the educational ladder.

Phil Tyler - Deputy Executive Director Criminon UK

Online Obituaries & Donations

We place an online obituary at www.lymn.co.uk/obituaries for every funeral we arrange unless instructed otherwise. The basic details are entered by us, followed by an email sent to a family member providing details on how to add more. Please be sure to check your junk email folder for this.

Obituary

A Funeral Guide online obituary allows the client to commemorate their family member or friend with a full-page picture and biography, as well as giving easy access to practical details such as the location and time of the funeral service.

Memorial Book

A Funeral Guide online memorial book is a dynamic resource for you to store memories about the person who has died. Inside the book, pictures can be displayed, stories collated and a full biography of the life created.

The memorial book is fully interactive meaning that friends and family can leave messages, light candles and post photos. As owner of the condolence book, our client, will have complete control over the messages that are displayed.

Donations

For online donations the obituary also allows family and friends to donate online easily and to Gift Aid via our partnership with Just Giving. This can be done via www.lymn.co.uk/obituaries

The family announcement in the newspaper should be closed "Family flowers only please", or "No flowers please but donations for [Chosen charity] may be sent to A.W. Lymn The Family Funeral Service or submitted online at www.lymn.co.uk/obituaries with gift aid where appropriate".

If a retiring collection is to be taken at church or at the cemetery or crematorium chapel, then the permission of the Minister or Authority must be sought.

All donations are recorded individually when a name and address is given.

For security all donations are banked in a "Client Donations Account" at Barclays Bank; this account is operated free of charge by the Bank and no interest is credited.

Any Donations sent online can be increased in line with the Gift Aid rules (subject to the charity being registered with Just Giving) by the click of a button, and if posted with a relevant declaration can be handled in the same way.

Approximately one month after the funeral, the donations list is closed and a cheque for the total amount forwarded to the charity together with details of the family and the deceased person, and a list of the individual names, and individual amounts donated. This acts as an independent check on the accuracy of our records, but will not include online donations.

When the money is forwarded to the charity, the family is sent a list of the names and addresses of the individual donors and a note of the total amount forwarded to the charity. For reasons of confidentiality, the individual amounts donated are not released to the family.

Our donations secretary Anne Cooke is available Monday to Friday, 9.00am - 5.00pm on 0115 941 4101 Ext.*432 or anne.cooke@lymn.co.uk and will be happy to answer any queries which you might have.

The Donation Tool

Canopy

from £250.00

A small canopy is available to provide cover to the grave at the time of the burial. This canopy is black and is approximately 3m by 6m, it does not have sides so all mourners can see the coffin and the burial, but it does keep the rain off the grave, the coffin, and the main mourners.

Chairs

from £100.00

We can supply locally 20 folding chairs which can be used at a graveside for main mourners. These can be used with either white or red covers and includes a bow.

Carpeting

from £250.00

Red, Pink & Blue coloured carpeting can be provided around a grave, and this is normally done in conjunction with the canopy. The carpet would be used once to keep mud and dirt away from the graveside if the ground conditions are particularly bad. We also have red, pink & blue ropes available.

Automatic Lowering Device

from £250.00

When required we can supply an automatic lowering device. This is the type often used in America for lowering large caskets into a grave at a slow and steady pace. This device is included in the price for certain of our Prestige American Caskets (page 54) where feasible, practical and permitted.

Underground Chamber

from £2,400.00

We can build and seal an underground chamber, where cemetery rules permit. These are constructed from concrete blocks or engineering bricks and can be simply pointed or tiled.

The re-opening of these chambers is charged depending on the method of original construction, and the age of the vault. As a guide a budget price should be included.

from £300.00

Grave Markers

£50.00

We can supply a hardwood cross, in a light or dark finish, to be placed at the time of the burial. These crosses have a suitable plate attached with the details of the deceased. Note, these are temporary markers and have a limited life.

Graveside Songs

When requested we can provide 100 copies of traditional song sheets.

Loan Vase

£25.00

We can provide a temporary loan vase with fresh flowers and an engraved name plate. This enables the grave to be immediately marked, the fee for this service is credited against any memorial work completed by us if the vase is returned.

Please advise the Stonemason upon receipt of your quotation.

Petals

£25.00

We can provide a small basket of petals for burials when requested. The petals are used to sprinkle on the coffin in place of soil.

White Doves

It is never easy to say goodbye to loved ones, but in addition to flowers, a white dove release for a funeral or memorial is one of the most loving and inspirational gifts to give. Our doves are personally bred and trained by the family to ensure you receive beautiful white birds that are guaranteed to return back to their home.

What the Doves Represent

Single Dove Release

The release of a single dove represents the spirit and soul of the departed being released to begin their final journey home.

Two Dove Release

The release of a pair of doves represents the joining of two souls.

Four Dove Release

The release of four doves represents the spirit of the departed joining the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit to be guided lovingly on their final journey home.

You may also wish to have the closest members of the family release a single dove each to celebrate the life of the person that has died.

Prices quoted include the collection of doves the day prior to the funeral, keeping safely overnight and watering and caring for them. The doves are delivered and released by an A.W. Lymn The Family Funeral Service member of staff, and if one is not present an additional charge of £50.00 to cover them and the appropriate vehicle will be made.

Outside of Monday to Friday 9.00am - 5.00pm this fee will be £100.00. Those doves used locally are bred and cared for locally. They have been trained to find their way home from the local cemeteries and crematoria. Therefore these doves can only be used within fifteen miles of their cotes in Arnold and Clipstone.

- One Dove - £75.00
- Two Doves - £100.00
- Three Doves - £120.00
- Four Doves - £135.00

Any other quantity of doves can be made available. Please ask your funeral director for more information and prices.

Ford Mustang Mach-E Electric Fleet finished in silver

In November 2023 we invested in our first all electric hearse. The Etive is based on the Mustang Mach-E and was built in the UK by funeral vehicle specialists Coleman Milne. The hearse is complemented by matching Mach-E cars which will seat up to four passengers. The decision to incorporate an electric hearse into the fleet aligns with the growing demand for sustainable funeral options. Additionally, the silent operation at the graveside is a noteworthy benefit, providing a more peaceful and respectful environment during the final moments of a service.

Coffin & Casket Range

Choosing an appropriate coffin or casket which means something to you will help with the bereavement process and is an important part of your funeral arrangement.

JC Atkinson

Working together with our specialist supplier J.C. Atkinson, an award winning manufacturer we are able to offer an exceptional standard of coffins and caskets. They are renowned for their care to the environment, quality and service.

J.C. Atkinson are the UK's unrivalled manufacturer of green, environmentally friendly coffins and caskets - including picture and coloured coffins.

They are committed to providing exceptional quality products, consistently and reliably, by understanding how precious loved ones are and their commitment to you ensures that they do everything that they can to help at this difficult time. They aim to provide the highest standard of ethically hand crafted products, while maintaining exceptional levels of quality and customer care.

In life we all have individual tastes and styles so why should a coffin choice be any less individual? They believe that everyone should choose a coffin for themselves or a loved one that expresses that person's individuality be it traditional or more alternative.

Their coffin range cover all types of coffin from traditionally styled wood coffins to wonderfully expressional picture coffins to more sensitive and softer coffins such as wool, wicker and bamboo coffins.

We have many different options available each offering a unique set of features, but before choosing it is perhaps worth taking a look back at the life of your loved one as this may point to the type of coffin or casket that would best represent their unique life. Were they for instance interested in the environment? Or perhaps they had a love of their garden or were a lifelong supporter of a football club, or maybe they were a very traditional person that liked things just so.

The coffin showroom shown above is available to all of our clients, by appointment, and is located at our Nottingham office.

Traditional Coffins

Our range of traditional coffins cover many styles and materials, from standard styles of coffins and caskets in solid or veneered wood to more elaborate styles with intricate panelled sides and raised lids.

The Country Range

A selection of alternative coffins and caskets made from materials such as Bamboo, Wicker, Wool and Seagrass, offering an environmental feel to the funeral and, due to the nature of the materials used, can appear to be a 'softer' option than a traditional wood coffin.

Picture Coffins

A picture paints a thousand words. Reflections is a range of picture coffins that can showcase picture quality images on the coffin. These images can be of absolutely anything, for example a collage of images of your loved one's life, a theme dedicated to the football club supported or a favourite place or hobby your loved one liked. A picture coffin really shows the uniqueness of your loved one's life.

Caskets

A selection of English style caskets, made from the finest quality of veneers or solid hardwoods.

American Caskets

A selection of exceptional quality metal and solid wood American caskets which come with matching handles and high quality interiors.

FSC

The FSC or Forestry Stewardship Council is an international, non governmental organisation dedicated to promoting responsible management of the world's forests. It was founded in 1993 in response to public concern about deforestation and demand for a trustworthy wood-labelling scheme.

Solid Oak

FSC Oak of correct grade and widths is not always available in the timber market. Given this we may use an alternative Oak, proven sustainable, with similar accreditations.

For clients supplying their own Coffin

If requested we will receive any coffin ordered directly by a client, check the condition, store, supply coffin plates and generally manage the process as well as paying for the coffin along with other disbursements. Any such coffin must be delivered to our coffin workshop at head office in Nottingham, and if for cremation must have a certificate confirming that it is compliant with FFMA, FBCA and ICCM standards for cremation.

Spectacles

We have agreed to support members of Nottingham Rotary Club in the collection of unwanted spectacles for Vision Aid Overseas.

The spectacles are graded and then sent to third world countries for distribution to the poorly sighted, who otherwise would have neither the opportunity nor the resources to obtain spectacles by their own means.

Please let us have any spectacles, whatever the condition, we will be very grateful to receive them in the knowledge that someone, somewhere will have an improved quality of life.

Shoes

Due to increasingly stringent regulations being introduced at crematoria, with respect to the control of emissions into the atmosphere, we have to monitor any personal effects that are placed in the coffin. This includes any clothing in which the deceased is dressed.

As a result it is necessary for us to remove shoes from the deceased immediately before the coffin or casket is finally sealed. We will pass them on to a recognised charity or recycling unit in the hope that someone less advantaged may have benefit of them unless you specifically request us not to. The above does not apply in the case of burial.

We will pass them on to Shoe Aid and The Friary which are both local Nottingham based charities.

Clothes & Furniture

Sue Ryder is a national healthcare charity, delivering care in local communities through a network of hospices and specialist care centres across the UK. Their services include long term, palliative, respite and end of life care for people living with progressive conditions such as cancer, multiple sclerosis, Huntington's disease, Parkinson's disease, motor neurone disease, stroke or brain injury and HIV. Any donation will help Sue Ryder care for people living through the challenges of life changing illness.

We can also arrange to collect good quality furniture free of charge and work locally with Age Concern, Carlton & District.

Jewellery

The Alzheimer's Society has a recycling scheme for any old, broken and unwanted jewellery. They will accept any items including costume jewellery, beads, watches, cufflinks etc. We have their recycling envelopes and can post off any such items to help the work of the Alzheimer's Society. The donations are collated at our Carlton office, and then sent off a full batch at a time.

Legs for Africa

This charity was started in The Gambia with the delivery of a single prosthetic leg in 2013. Since then they have continued to increase the ways in which they support existing services whilst developing new solutions to help amputees. In countries that are more fortunate they've learnt that there is a significant wastage of valuable material, components and resources that can make huge changes in less fortunate parts of the world. They support the empowerment of amputees across Africa so that they may dispel current stigmas by proving that disability does not equate to inability. If you have a prosthetic to donate your local office will arrange this for you.

Hearing Aid Recycling

Hearing Aid Recycling is a not for profit, ethical, sustainability led company. Founded to recover, repurpose and reuse all redundant UK hearing aids to help deaf children in the developing world and Eastern Europe. Supporting the manufacturers in their sustainability and charitable works. Regularly sending aids and audiologists to key areas, to dispense, and train key workers, on the ground.

The benefits of using Aerial Ashes' drones include enabling access to memorable locations, the ability to scatter over land or water, and that delivering finely scattered remains from height leaves hardly a trace on the surface.

A.W. LYMN

The Craftsmen in Stone®

In 1937 Arthur William Lymn's son Harold decided that he would like to expand on the services offered to clients at the time of a bereavement to include the provision of a memorial following the funeral and so in partnership with Mr Ernest Smith, founded Ernest Smith The Craftsmen in Stone. The business is now A.W. Lymn The Craftsmen in Stone, and we continue to produce high quality work across the East Midlands and further afield.

Our aim is to make it easy for you to choose a memorial stone that is a fitting tribute to your loved one. Whether you choose a churchyard style memorial in a honed, matt finish, or one of our modern highly polished stones as the perfect background for your message of remembrance, you can depend on our commitment to quality.

All of the memorials shown are fully priced and include a number of sandblasted letters (as shown in the banner at the foot of each page) as well as fitting the memorial in a local burial ground, within 50 miles of our workshop by the current approved method, any flower containers as shown with a bunch of fresh seasonal flowers in each vase at the time of fitting and VAT at the current rate. We can also design a bespoke memorial to accommodate your specific requirements.

If you would like to discuss a new memorial, are interested in renovating or adding an additional inscription to an existing memorial, or merely want some professional friendly advice, we are accessible through Sarah Fisher, Mary Haynes or Maureen Kite at our showroom on Bath Street, Nottingham, on 0115 911 4411, or via your local funeral director at any of the funeral homes of A.W. Lymn The Family Funeral Service. Alternatively please contact us and we can arrange a no obligation visit to your home.

They help individuals support each other, at the time of their loss and in the months and years that follow. They aim to provide safe, confidential environments where people can share their experiences and feelings, giving and gaining support from each other.

Take Our Hand

Take Our Hand understand how difficult it is to be a young person, so when you add a bereavement to the mix it can have a detrimental effect on them, their lives and those closest to them. This is why they want to help young people across England who are going through a bereavement. They believe that all bereavements have an impact on someone's life, be it a parent, friend or colleague and they are all hard to deal with.

Bereavement Counselling

Should you feel that professional help is needed by you or any of your family, we can suggest positive steps for you to take and to guide you in the right direction although we do not have our own in-house bereavement counsellors.

Support Services after the Funeral

The Bereavement Register

The Bereavement Register

The Bereavement Register was launched as a service for members of the general public and is specifically designed to remove from databases and mailing lists the names and addresses of those who have died. We are often bombarded with unsolicited mail or post we just don't want and unfortunately this does not stop when we die.

By registering with The Bereavement Register, the amount of direct mail sent to the deceased person will reduce within four to six weeks, leading to virtually nothing within six months. Should you continue to receive items of direct mail, you can forward all items to their Freepost address and they will contact the companies concerned directly on your behalf.

All Clients of A.W. Lymn The Family Funeral Service will automatically have their details recorded with The Bereavement Register unless they specifically request not to.

Nottinghamshire Police Force Scam Warning

Fraud advice for the recently bereaved.

In 2020 we were contacted by Nottinghamshire Police to help stop funeral fraudsters scamming bereaved families in the East Midlands. Scammers are convincing liars who will stop at nothing to make sure their scams seem plausible and unfortunately research has shown that recently bereaved people are more susceptible.

Never respond to phone calls, e-mails or letters which may come out of the blue without talking to friends or relatives first. You can also call or drop into any of our funeral home to ask for advice.

Remember to:

STOP • THINK • GET ADVICE.

Some scams to be aware of:-

Romance fraud

Romance fraud is a confidence trick where a criminal establishes a fake online presence to gain the victim's love and trust. The fraudster then uses this romantic, personal connection to manipulate and exploit the victim into giving them money. Declarations of love may come within a matter of weeks, days or hours and may cloud the victim's judgement.

What to do:

- Never give away personal details, including your age and birth date
- Watch out for odd spellings and grammar
- Profile location - if the location states they are in Malaysia but their profile states they are looking for a relationship in Germany - beware
- Do not share pictures or information about yourself that can give someone a hold over you
- Speak openly about your dating with trusted friends and family. Alert them if the contact starts to feel strange. If their advice is to back off, LISTEN! They can provide the correct level of judgement with your best interests at heart
- Stop communicating if pressured

Investment scam

This could involve a call from someone who says they run an investment scheme or are a stockbroker, they may put the victim under pressure to send money immediately, saying the offer is only available for a short time and stating that there is little or no risk.

What to do:

- Hang up
- Never invest money without doing your own research
- Don't give in to pressure
- Tell your bank and the police

Courier & general phone scams

A cold call from a company or person you have never dealt with before or when a call is received saying they are from the victim's bank or the police. They may say someone has been fraudulently using the victim's bank account and will either send a courier to collect the bank card or ask the victim to buy an expensive item of jewellery to give to a courier or ask for a money transfer online.

What to do:

- Hang up and call your bank and the police
- Don't give in to pressure
- Contact your provider and make sure your number is ex-directory
- Register with the Telephone Preference Service
- Invest in a call blocker
- Contact your local council and get your details removed from the OPEN Electoral Register - this will stop your details being publically available
- Remove your details from 192.com

What to do if you've been scammed

If you have been scammed, don't feel embarrassed about reporting it - fraudsters are clever and it can happen to anyone. By reporting the crime, it can prevent it from happening to others.

Contact the police immediately on 101 if:

- The scammer is in your area
- You've transferred money to the scammer in the last 24 hours
- If you feel threatened or unsafe, call 999

You can also report and get advice about fraud or cyber crime by calling 0300 123 2040, or visiting the Action Fraud website: www.actionfraud.police.uk

Lymn Vouchers

Vouchers from a local family owned business.

Lymn Vouchers are offered by A.W. Lymn The Family Funeral Service Limited and can be used towards the cost of any services provided by the A.W. Lymn Group.

No large capital sum is required, no monthly commitment is necessary and, unlike a pre-paid funeral plan, the Lymn Voucher can be used towards the cost of luxury vehicle hire, flowers or the release of doves for any occasion, further they can be used for funeral related activities irrespective of whether that is for the voucher holders such as memorial work, obituary notices, in memoriam donations, or indeed to partly fund any funeral.

On the deaths of the voucher holder, the vouchers can be used towards the cost of their funeral. If the date of death is more than six months after the issue date of the voucher and A.W. Lymn The Family Funeral Service is contracted for the funeral, £12.00 will be allowed towards the cost of that funeral for each £10.00 of Lymn Vouchers presented. Any vouchers not used towards the cost of the funeral will be refunded to the estate at the original purchase price.

Finally, it should be noted that Lymn Vouchers can be refunded at any time during the life of the voucher holder and the original amount paid will be refunded to the voucher holder enabling that money to be spent in anyway the voucher holders sees fit. Please speak with us for more information and the full terms and conditions.
